What the sample would include

This page is formatted as a lightweight print view. You can download the PDF sample or use the browser print command to save one copy for family testing.

Story moment

Koko pauses in the forest. Ask: What did Koko notice first?

PAGE 2

Feeling words

Practice happy, worried, and brave with one small face drawing for each word.

PAGE 3

Draw and tell

Draw Koko taking one brave step, then tell the story in one sentence.

Download or print the sample

Download the PDF sample for sharing, or open your browser print menu and choose Save as PDF. The printed view keeps the sample cards, parent prompt, and activity steps while hiding extra page chrome. No checkout, price, or payment link is connected to this sample. It is only a trust-building preview before a paid pack exists.

After you download the PDF

If this PDF was shared with you, open the follow-up page and tap the interest button if the full Koko printable would help your family.

How to test it with a child

Parent prompt: Keep the practice short. Read one line, let your child draw, then stop before the activity feels heavy.

Five-minute activity: circle one feeling word and draw one forest detail that matches it.
